The game

The Haunted Trail runs from Oct 13 to Nov 3. Players guide G3, the Goated mascot (a girl with goat horns), along a trail of 12 houses. Each house is a task, such as playing an Original or placing a parlay. Clearing the task opens the house's door, it pays out Candy, and G3 walks on to the next house.

- Three zones, one per week. Each zone is a neighbourhood of 4 houses: Pumpkin Fields opens Oct 13, Hollow Woods Oct 20 and The Graveyard Oct 27. The event closes Nov 3. Locked zones sit under fog on the same map; when a zone opens, its fog lifts.
- Candy Shop. Players spend their Candy here on rewards. The Goat Kid brews each purchase in the cauldron.
- Fog meter. A site-wide progress bar. Every tier it reaches triggers a Candy Rain.
- Characters. G3 is the player, the Trail Keeper announces each new zone, and the Goat Kid runs the Candy Shop.

How the map is built

The map is stacked from separate layers, bottom to top, so code can move and swap each one:

1. Map with the trail painted in
2. 12 houses (glow + house)
3. G3 character
4. Fog over locked zones

Draw once, reuse everywhere

- Fog: one tileable texture covers any locked zone.
- Houses: one design per zone, reused for all 4 of its stops; one door-open animation for all of them.
- Zone colours (#FFAA33, #02DE82, #FF3B69) are applied in code to the glow and pulse.
- Map: one file, updated in place as each zone is detailed.
- Popup image: one for every zone opening.

UI elements (tabs, buttons, cards, icons) are built by design and aren't listed here. Everything goes in /halloween-2026/. Braces list variants, e.g. {d|m} = desktop + mobile. Size is the export size; "shows at" is the on-screen size.
